CTRL Security

CTRL Group is Australia's forward-thinking information security firm that protects businesses from cyber risk.

Our team specialises in augmenting your security function to help you develop world-class capability in addressing business critical cyber threats and risks.

We are an all-Australian brand with a business and data centric philosophy that is time, resource and cost efficient. This philosophy is driven by our firm belief that security is as critical to a business's chance of survival and success as other key pillars such as finance, legal, strategy, sales and product development. For our clients to consider it as essential as other key pillars, we believe it needs to align with key business principles, such as cost efficiency and effectiveness.

We work collaboratively with clients to provide best in-class solutions specific to their business and security needs. Our approach is specifically designed to enable our clients to achieve a respectable level of cyber maturity – effectively helping them look after the best interests of their shareholders and stakeholders.
